

WILLIAM A. KELL

- CURRENTLY Director and Lecturer in Residence, New Business Practicum, University of California at Berkeley, Berkeley, CA. July 2001 to present
- EDUCATION Wayne State University, Detroit, MI. Juris Doctor. 1987
University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, MI. B.A. in Psychology. 1981
- EMPLOYMENT HISTORY J.Thomas Clark Professor in Entrepreneurship and Personal Enterprise, and Director, Cornell Small Business for Youth Project, Cornell University Law School, Ithaca, NY. January 1999 to July 2001
- Visiting Senior Lecturer, Cornell University Law School, Ithaca, NY. August 1997 to December 1998
- Senior Lecturer and Clinical Teacher, Northwestern University Law School, Chicago, IL. August 1996 to June 1997
- Adjunct Professor of Law and Director, Child Advocacy Clinic, Indiana University Law School, Bloomington, IN. August 1995 to June 1996
- Attorney at Law, Ithaca, NY. June 1992 to July 1995
- Attorney, Legal Assistance Corporation of Central Massachusetts, Worcester, MA. September 1991 to May 1992
- Attorney, Tompkins County Law Guardian Office, Ithaca, NY. February 1991 to May 1991
- Attorney and Policy Specialist, Forensic Division, Massachusetts Department of Mental Health, Boston, MA. January 1988 to October 1990
- PUBLICATIONS “Interdisciplinary Transactional Courses,” with Eric Gouvin, Robert Statchen, and Anthony Luppino, in Transactions – The Tennessee Journal of Business Law, Volume 12, p 101, (2011)
- “Transactional Clinics and Ethics Education – Survey and Analysis” by William Kell and Meredith Jones (2004 survey of ethics education practices/curriculum of 21 law school transactional clinics nationwide).
- “Pinocchio in Littleton,” 34 University of Michigan Journal of Law Reform 321 (Spring 2001)

“Financing for Family Child Care, A Resource Manual for Providers”
“Landlord & Tenant Issues for Family Child Care, A Resource Manual for Providers” “Landlord & Tenant Issues for Family Child Care, A Resource Manual for Landlords,” with Elisa Erlenbach and Michael Graziano, Enterprise Foundation, 2000

“Ties that Bind?': Children's Lawyers, Children's Agency, and the Dilemma of Parental Affiliation,” 29 Loyola University Law Journal 353 (1998)

“Voices Lost and Found: Training Ethical Lawyers for Children,” 73 Indiana Law Journal 635 (Spring 1998)

PRESENTATIONS “Transactional Clinics as the Foundation for Expanded Representation of Student Entrepreneurs Near and Far,” Annual Transactional Clinician’s Conference, DePaul University, Chicago, Illinois, April 2014

“E-Lawyering: NSFW?” , CLIP Innovation Summit 2014: Shaping the Future of Law and Entrepreneurship, Texas A&M, College Station, Texas (by web cast), Feb 2014

“Legal Assistance to Student Ventures Near and Far,” U.S. Association for Small Business Entrepreneurs Conference, Fort Worth, Texas, Jan 2014

“Expanding the Reach of Transactional Clinics,” Annual Transactional Clinician’s Conference, University of Texas Law School, Austin, Texas, April 2013

“Entrepreneurs – the American Dream; A Lawyer’s Worst Nightmare?” Presentation at the Law and Society Association National Conference, Honolulu, HI, June 2012

“Plays well with Others -JD and MBA Students Learning Transactional Law and Ethics Together in the Experiential Classroom” – Annual Transactional Law Conference, Emory University, Atlanta, GA, June 2010.

“Getting the Best of Both Worlds: Simulation and Real Client Practice” – Presentation to the annual LAW BUS Transactional Clinicians Association, Wayne State University Law School, Detroit, MI, April 2008.

“Integrating Ethics into Transactional Clinical Curriculum” Presentation to the Annual Meeting of Transactional Law Clinicians, April 2003

“Interdisciplinary Education and the Role of Non-Lawyer Professionals in Transactional Clinical Teaching” Presentation to the Annual Meeting of Transactional Law Clinicians, April 2002

LICENSES

Licensed to practice law in California, New York, Massachusetts, and Illinois