

Dear Antitrust students,

There is no assignment for the first class. There is no “call” for the first week. Please read through the syllabus for the course before the first class.

The publisher made a mistake and shipped the wrong textbook, so the textbook will not be in the Berkeley bookstore until the middle to end of this week. To compensate, I will post a pdf of the first week’s reading by the end of the day Monday.

Best wishes,

Prasad
