

Due to the use of simulation exercises throughout the semester and the need to ensure an even number of students, the usual provisions of "Add/Drop" do not apply. All interested students, whether enrolled or on the wait list, should attend the first session at which time enrollment will be confirmed. The second and all subsequent class sessions will be held in courtrooms at the San Francisco Federal Building, 450 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco (approximately 3 blocks from the Civic Center Muni/BART station). If you have questions, please contact The Honorable Jeffrey S. White at jeffrey_white@cand.uscourts.gov or Tracie Brown at tracie.brown@usdoj.gov.

STATEMENT OF COMMITMENT

I recognize that attendance and participation at all scheduled classes (including the first class) is mandatory. I further recognize that there will likely be a high demand for this class, and that the advocacy skills taught during the semester will be built upon from week to week. Accordingly, if I am enrolled in Civil Trial Advocacy (course no. 245.2), I hereby commit that I will not drop the course at any time (including during the usual add-drop period) unless allowed to do so by the instructors for extremely good cause.
