

ECONOMIC POLICY: ISRAEL AS A CASE STUDY

Prof. Tali Regev

This course introduces contemporary economic policy debates focusing on examples from the Israeli economy. The first part of the class will focus on Israel's macroeconomic development. We will start with a brief introduction to the economic history of Israel. We will then discuss topics such as growth, the public sector and fiscal policy, inflation and monetary policy, privatization and liberalization. The second part of the course will focus on the ongoing macro and microeconomic challenges and policy implications for the Israeli economy. We will discuss topics in public finance and labor economics, exploring the regulation of natural resources, the welfare state, fertility, employment, immigration, emigration, and discrimination.

For more information on the courses that the Berkeley Institute has to offer, email us at berkeley\_institute@law.berkeley.edu

BerkeleyLaw
UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

Berkeley Institute for Jewish Law and Israel Studies

Economic Policy: Israel as a Case Study

Fall, 2016 Economics

Econ 196, 3 Units
CCN 32799

Instructor:
Prof. Tali Regev

Wed, 3-6 PM,
60 Evans