

JIN Haijun (金海军)

professor of law, Director of Intellectual Property Law Program, Renmin University of China Law School. Ph.D (Renmin University), LL.M (Renmin University; University of Washington) and LL.B (Southwest University of Political Science and Law). He has been a visiting professor of the University of Washington School of Law (Spring Term, 2014) and Goethe University of Frankfurt am Main, Germany (Fall Term, 2009-10), and a visiting scholar at Harvard Law School and Max-Planck Institute for Intellectual Property and Competition Law in Munich respectively in 2006 and 2005. Before joining the faculty of Renmin Law School, he has once practiced law as a lawyer during 1993-95.

He is the author of Intellectual Property Rights of Private Right (Renmin University Press, 2004), and co-author of the core textbook Intellectual Property Law (High Educational Press, 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th eds.), among other books and articles in Chinese. Some selected works in English are “Reality and Potentiality: Compulsory Patent Licensing in China from a Comparative Perspective”, 31 European Intellectual Property Review 93-100 (2009), and one chapter of “China” in Intellectual Property in Asia: Law, Economics History and Politics, Paul Goldstein and Joseph Straus ed., Springer, 2009, pp 17-54. He has translated these fundamental IP law books into Chinese: The Economic Structure of Intellectual Property Law (authored by William Landes and Richard Posner), The Making of the Modern Intellectual Property Law (authored by Bentley and Sherman), Copyright’s Highway (authored by Paul Goldstein), and Resource Book on TRIPS and Development (ICTSD, UNCTAD ed.).

He is also a senior editor of English-Chinese Dictionary of Anglo-American Law (Law Press, 2003), the legal counsel for Xinhua News Agency and an arbitrator in Nanjing Arbitration Commission.