

The Center for the Study of Law and Society invites you to join us for

A Conversation in Law and Society

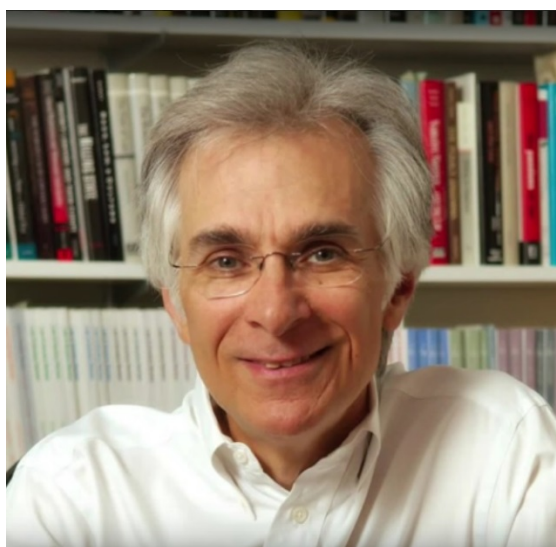

With Austin Sarat

Interviewed by Jonathan Simon

Friday, April 21st, 2017 – 2:00-3:30 p.m.

Berkeley Law, Moot Court Room # 140

Reception to follow – 2240 Piedmont Avenue

Austin D. Sarat is William Nelson Cromwell Professor of Jurisprudence and Political Science and Associate Dean of the Faculty at Amherst College, where he has served on the faculty since 1974. In addition to many authored books and scores of articles, Sarat has distinguished himself as the leading series and book editor in law and society and law and the humanities. His series include the International Library of Essays in Law and Society and Studies in Law, Politics and Society. Among almost 100 edited books are Law's Violence (1992), Law in Everyday Life (1993), The Killing State: Capital Punishment in Law, Politics, and Culture (1999), Blackwell Companion to Law and Society (2004), Human Rights and the American Story (2017). He also edits the journal Law, Culture, and the Humanities. Sarat has served as President of the Law and Society Association and founding President of the Association for the Study of Law, Culture and the Humanities. Among many honors and awards, he has received the LSA's Harry Kalven Award for distinguished research (1997), Stan Wheeler Prize for distinguished teaching and mentoring (2009) and Ronald Pipkin Service Award (2014), as well as the Lasting Contribution Award of the APSA Section on Law and Courts (2011), and an honorary Doctor of Law from Providence College (2008).