CSLS Visiting Scholars Speaker Series – Fall 2018
A Series of Talks by Center for the Study of Law & Society Visiting Scholars
Fridays in the Selznick Seminar Room. 3:00 to 4:45 pm.
Moderated by Jonathan Simon. Refreshments served.

Friday, September 28

Doron Dorfman, Stanford University
“[Un]Usual Suspects: Deservingness, Scarcity, and Disability Rights”

Yoav Mehozay, Haifa University (Israel) (co-author Eran Fisher)
“The Epistemology of Algorithmic Risk Assessment and the Path Towards a Non-Penology Penology”

Friday, October 12

Smadar Ben-Natan, Tel Aviv University (Israel)
“The Legalization of Enemy Law: Legal Change in an Imperial Formation”

Pablo Rando Casermeiro, University of Sevilla (Spain)
“Urban Crime Control and Disorder: The New York Export”

Friday, October 26

Caitlin Henry, Sonoma State University
“What the Prisoner Advocacy Network Law Clinic Learned from Its Participants and Clients”

Solveig Laugerud, University of Oslo (Norway)
“Embodied Truths and Authentic Traumas: The Constitution of Evidence and Credibility in Rape Cases”

Friday, November 16

Nir Kosti, Hebrew University of Jerusalem (Israel)
“The Relationship between Primary and Secondary Legislation: A Cross-National Study”

Yasuhiro Maruyama, Rissho University (Japan)
“Towards Japanese Penal Welfarism: Drug Treatment without Punishment?”

*****