"Fast Track allows law students to truly get a sense of the culture that makes Haynes and Boone unique, which centers, first and foremost, around the people. This is an impression that you simply cannot get from brief interviews or internet research. Fast Track was an integral part in my decision to join Haynes and Boone, both as a summer associate and a full-time associate."

"At the beginning of law school, I wasn't sure what city I wanted to work in after graduation. Since I was in school on the East Coast, I knew very little about the Texas legal market. Fast Track provided the perfect opportunity to learn about the Texas legal market and Haynes and Boone in particular. I was able to meet a variety of lawyers across a number of practice areas and gain a greater understanding about what it meant to be a lawyer at Haynes and Boone. The valuable insights I gained during Fast Track allowed me to focus my job search on the Texas legal market, and the relationships I developed during Fast Track made choosing Haynes and Boone an easy decision."

"It can be difficult during 20-minute OCI interviews (or even during a full day call-back visit) to understand what life is actually like at any given law firm. Fast Track provides a unique opportunity for students to fully immerse themselves into Haynes and Boone for an extended period of time, giving them an opportunity to better understand the people, work, culture, and surrounding city that makes this place a great environment to work and thrive."

"Being from Dallas I was aware of the great firms that have offices here. Fast Track allowed me to spend time with numerous Haynes and Boone lawyers and really experience its culture. As a result, my decision regarding which firm to join was easy - I knew I wanted to be at Haynes and Boone."

"With no lawyers in my family, and having never been to Dallas, Fast Track ended up being the most important part of my law school recruiting process. The whole experience was very transparent, and it allowed me the opportunity to speak with numerous lawyers across a wide variety of practice areas, and get their candid thoughts about their work, practicing big law in Dallas, and managing a work-life balance. No four-hour call-back interview could ever provide as much insight into a firm as Fast Track does for law students."
