

Using the Correct Address Format for Incoming Shipments

Mail Services handles business-related U.S. Mail only – letters and packages weighing less than 70 pounds and with a total length-plus-width measuring less than 108 inches. Larger and heavier packages must be handled by Central Distribution, UC Berkeley's warehouse facility – your incoming freight will be delivered to Berkeley Law locations by Central Distribution free of charge.

Remember that few commercial trucks can safely maneuver the hairpin turns required to gain access to the loading area behind Boalt Hall.

Using the appropriate freight handler minimizes two significant risks:

1. Receiving freight shipments is outside the scope of Berkeley Law mailroom job descriptions – injuries sustained moving freight around Berkeley Law could cause a Workers Compensation claim to be denied for this reason.
2. Vendor vehicles may not be driven on University property unless a current Certificate of Insurance for the carrier is on file in central Procurement Services. This proof of insurance protects UC Berkeley from liability in the event of injury to individuals or damage to campus property caused by the vendor's vehicle.
