THE HONORABLE G. WILLIAM AND ARIADNA MILLER INSTITUTE FOR GLOBAL CHALLENGES AND THE LAW

Since 2007, the Honorable G. William and Ariadna Miller Institute for Global Challenges and the Law has been at the heart of Berkeley Law's international enterprise. Founded and supported by the generosity of G. William and Ariadna Miller, the Institute is a research, teaching, and policy center on international and comparative law.

Through interdisciplinary collaborations and institutional partnerships, the Miller Institute addresses urgent challenges that demand creative global approaches, including promoting the rule of law, climate and energy justice, anti-corruption, and human rights. Our work is guided by Berkeley Law's distinguished international and comparative law faculty and informed by the expertise of scholars and practitioners worldwide. The approach is collaborative, interdisciplinary, and strategic. Our initiatives and advocacy work target critical situations where we are uniquely equipped to promote lasting change.

Miller Institute Faculty Co-Directors
Katerina Linos and Laurel E. Fletcher

THANK YOU TO ARIADNA MILLER

The Miller Institute is named as a tribute to the Honorable G. William Miller ('52) and his wife Ariadna Miller. We wish to thank Mrs. Miller for her continued and generous support of the Institute.

A celebrated Berkeley Law alumnus, G. William Miller served as Secretary of the Treasury under President Carter and 11th Chairman of the Federal Reserve. He was an officer in the US Coast Guard, and led a distinguished career in business and investment banking.

Mr. Miller was a lifelong supporter of Berkeley Law, serving on the school's Campaign Cabinet. As national chair of the Distinguished Professors Project in 1986, he helped raise $1.2 million to endow chairs honoring Berkeley Law professors. Mr. Miller was also the 1979 recipient of the Citation Award, the Boalt Hall Alumni Association's highest honor, and was recognized with the UC Berkeley Foundation Trustee's Citation in 1987.

He was deeply committed to enabling work to promote the rule of law as a means to ensure that nations share a set of values without sacrificing their individual cultures. The Miller Institute seeks to further his vision.

DAVID D. CARON MEMORIAL AND SYMPOSIUM

MEMORIAL FOR PROFESSOR DAVID D. CARON '83

and THE ELEGANCE OF INTERNATIONAL LAW: A CONFERENCE IN COMMEMORATION OF PROFESSOR DAVID D. CARON '83 SEPTEMBER 14-15, 2018

David D. Caron ('83), C. William Maxeiner Distinguished Professor of Law (Emeritus), passed away on February 20, 2018 at the age of 65. He was one of the founding faculty directors of the Miller Institute and was instrumental in its success over the years. A memorial and symposium commemorating his life and work at Berkeley were held on September 14 and 15, 2018.

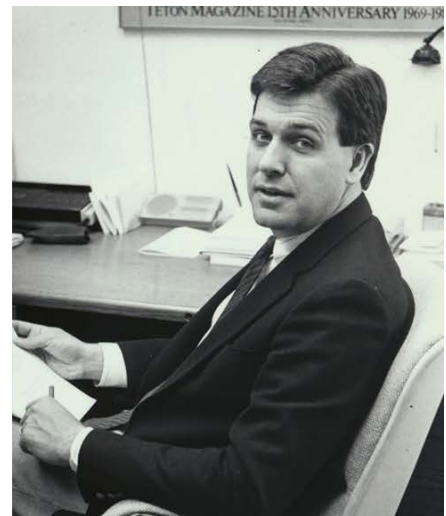

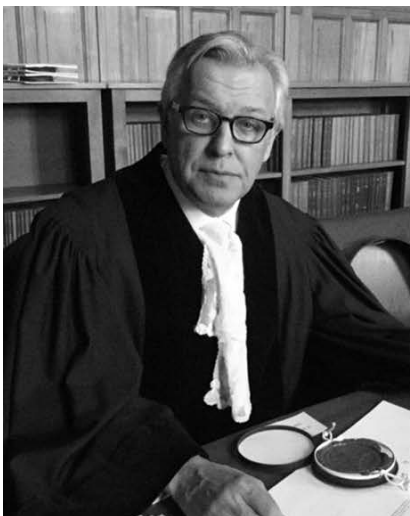

A leading scholar, judge, and arbitrator, Professor Caron taught at Berkeley Law from 1987-2013, gaining a reputation as a warm and generous peer and teacher. Colleagues recalled him as an international law “superstar,” an innovator, a mentor, and a nurturing father. His writing and teaching addressed international law and organizations, with the corpus of work focusing on public and private international dispute resolution, international courts and tribunals, the United Nations, the law of the sea, international environmental law, climate change, and in general the roots of international law. He served as Co-Director of the Miller Institute, as well as Co-Director of the Law of the Sea Institute, an internationally recognized forum for ocean law scholarship and analysis.

In 2000, he received the first Stefan A. Riesenfeld Award, which honors the longtime Berkeley Law professor and recognizes outstanding contributions to international law.

He left Berkeley Law in 2013 to become Dean of the Dickson Poon School of Law, King's College London. He also served as president of the American Society of International Law, was a member of the Iran-US Claims Tribunal in The Hague, and sat as judge ad hoc at the International Court of Justice.

STEFAN A. RIESENFELD AWARD AND SYMPOSIUM

Organized by the Berkeley Journal of International Law (BJIL)

Sponsored by the Miller Institute for Global Challenges and the Law and Morrison & Foerster LLP

Since 2001, one of the great traditions at Berkeley Law has been the Stefan A. Riesenfeld Award and Symposium, which allows students, alumni, faculty, and staff to come together to recognize and celebrate achievement in international law.

2019 STEFAN A. RIESENFELD AWARD

The Riesenfeld Award is given to a distinguished scholar or practitioner who has made outstanding contributions to the field of international law and who has demonstrated a commitment to the values that Professor Riesenfeld espoused. The 2019 Award was given to Iván Velásquez Gómez, United Nations High Commissioner of the International Commission Against Impunity in Guatemala (CICIG). A Colombian judge, he has led the UN's groundbreaking anti-corruption agency through a tempest, working with Guatemala's Attorney General's Office to dismantle organized crime, bring down corrupt officials, and investigate corrupt presidents, lawyers, and judges. He was recently expelled from Guatemala by President Jimmy Morales, who is at the center of illegal financing allegations, and is continuing to work outside of the country.

STEFAN A. RIESENFELD (1908-1999)

Stefan Riesenfeld ('37) was a Berkeley Law professor and recognized authority in numerous legal specialties including international law, comparative law, property law, creditors' remedies and bankruptcy, administrative law, and legal history. A native of Germany, he came to Berkeley in 1935 to earn a law degree. Speaking German, French, and Italian and with two European law degrees to his credit, he learned English only while studying at Berkeley. Nonetheless, he graduated on time and near the top of his class, and went on to receive a doctorate in law at Harvard. Professor Riesenfeld joined the Berkeley faculty in 1952 after teaching at Harvard and the University of Minnesota.

He served as a legal advisor in the Panama Canal treaty negotiations, the recognition of Taiwan, and the Iran hostage case. While in his 70s, he represented the United States in three major cases before the International Court of Justice. As civilian legal advisor with the US Office of the High Commissioner in the mid-1940s, he helped prepare the West German constitution. He also wrote the statute for Hawaii's workers' compensation regulations and helped develop human rights litigation in the United States.

Each year, the Miller Institute supports a symposium and an award in Professor Riesenfeld's name to keep alive his commitment to rigorous scholarship in international law and his devotion to public service.

PARTNERSHIP WITH THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF INTERNATIONAL LAW

Berkeley Law, through the Miller Institute, is an Academic Partner of the American Society of International Law (ASIL), which provides recognition, participation, promotion, education, and access opportunities for our students, faculty, and alumni.

FACULTY AND ALUMNI PARTICIPATION

Berkeley Law faculty and alumni have a rich history of leadership in ASIL. Professor Saira Mohamed and Jarrold Wong ('99) are members of the Executive Council, which serves as the governing body of the organization. Professor Laurel E. Fletcher is the co-chair of the Transitional Justice and Rule of Law Interest Group and Kate Jastram ('86), former Miller Institute Executive Director and Berkeley Law lecturer, is co-chair of the International Refugee Law Interest Group. Professor Katerina Linos and University of Chicago Professor Tom Ginsburg (JD '97/PhD '99) sit on the Editorial Committee of the American Journal of International Law.

ASIL ANNUAL MEETING

The ASIL Annual Meeting, held each spring in Washington DC, is the largest and most important US gathering of international law practitioners, policymakers, and scholars. Professor Saira Mohamed moderated a session on "Emerging Accountability Mechanisms: Innovative or Ineffective?." Brian Egan ('00) spoke at a panel on "International Law as a Counterweight to Power Asymmetries in International Politics" and participated in a tabletop simulation on "Atrocity Prevention Decision-Making in the US Government." The Miller Institute sponsored a March 29 reception, hosted by Professor Mohamed, for Berkeley Law students, faculty, and alumni who attended the Annual Meeting to honor the memory of former ASIL President and Berkeley Law Professor David Caron ('83).

INTERNATIONAL LAW REVIEW EDITORS ROUNDTABLE

In recognition of the important role that student-edited international law journals play in the dissemination of international legal scholarship, ASIL inaugurated a new program as part of the Annual Meeting: the International Law Review Editors Roundtable.

Berkeley Law was represented at the Roundtable by Isaac Webb ('20), 2019-2020 Co-Editor-in-Chief of the Berkeley Journal of International Law (BJIL), who traveled to Washington DC with support from the Miller Institute. According to Isaac, "The Roundtable gave me an opportunity to learn about how other international law journals solicit and select scholarship, and foster international law communities at their respective law schools....Finally, the Roundtable gave me ideas about how to improve BJIL's [Riesenfeld] Symposium next year and in the years to come."

REACHING OUT TO INTERNATIONAL LAW STUDENTS

Profs. Richard Buxbaum and Laurel E. Fletcher welcoming incoming students, August 27 2018

WELCOME RECEPTION FOR INCOMING INTERNATIONAL LAW STUDENTS – AUGUST 27, 2018

For the past seven years, the Miller Institute has hosted a reception to welcome incoming JD, LLM, and JSD students interested in international and comparative law. Students had the opportunity to meet faculty, learn about international law classes, programs, and events, and to hear from international law student groups, such as the Berkeley Journal for International Law, the Human Rights Law Student Association, the California Asylum Representation Clinic, the International Refugee Assistance Project, and the Berkeley Committee Against Torture.

BERKELEY JOURNAL OF INTERNATIONAL LAW FACULTY TALKS – FALL 2018

Organized by the Berkeley Journal of International Law

For the second year in a row, the Miller Institute supported a series of talks, organized by the Berkeley Journal of International Law, which featured members of Berkeley Law's international law faculty. These talks were a unique opportunity for a small group of students to engage with the professors about their work and research in an informal setting.
