Since 2007, The Honorable G. William and Ariadna Miller Institute for Global Challenges and the Law has been the heart of Berkeley Law's international enterprise. Founded and supported by the generosity of G. William and Ariadna Miller, the Institute is a research, teaching, and policy center on international and comparative law.

Through interdisciplinary collaborations and institutional partnerships, the Miller Institute addresses urgent challenges that demand creative global approaches, including promoting the rule of law, climate and energy justice, anti-corruption, and human rights. Our work is guided by Berkeley Law's distinguished international and comparative law faculty and informed by the expertise of scholars and practitioners worldwide. The approach is collaborative, interdisciplinary, and strategic. Our initiatives and advocacy work target critical situations where we are uniquely equipped to promote lasting change.

G. WILLIAM AND ARIADNA MILLER

The Miller Institute is named as a tribute to the Honorable G. William Miller ('52) and his wife, Ariadna Miller.

A celebrated Berkeley Law alumnus, G. William Miller served as the U.S. Secretary of the Treasury under President Jimmy Carter and the 11th Chairman of the Federal Reserve. He was an officer in the U.S. Coast Guard and had a distinguished career in business and investment banking.

Miller was a lifelong supporter of Berkeley Law, serving on the school's Campaign Cabinet. As national chairman of the Distinguished Professors Project in 1986, he helped raise $1.2 million to endow chairs honoring Berkeley Law professors. Miller was also the 1979 recipient of the Citation Award, the Berkeley Law Alumni Association's highest honor, and was recognized with the UC Berkeley Foundation Trustee's Citation in 1987.

He was deeply committed to enabling work to promote the rule of law as a means to ensure that nations share a set of values without sacrificing their individual cultures. The Miller Institute seeks to further his vision.

PUTTING INTERNATIONAL SCHOLARSHIP AND POLICYMAKING ON THE MAP

The Miller Institute provides opportunities for students and faculty to learn from and exchange ideas with a stellar array of scholars, policymakers, and practitioners.

Professor Helena Whalen-Bridge

COMPARATIVE RESEARCH ON LAWYERS AND ACCESS TO JUSTICE: ASIAN PERSPECTIVES

July 24, 2019

Co-sponsored with the Berkeley Center on Comparative Equality & Anti-Discrimination Law and the Pro Bono Program

Helena Whalen-Bridge, Associate Professor at the National University of Singapore Faculty of Law, presented her research on the variety of factors that influence how lawyers support access to justice in different countries in Asia, such as professional identity and the interplay of legal aid and pro bono, as well as the different solutions which currently exist, such as mandatory pro bono programs in Japan and South Korea.

WELCOME RECEPTION FOR NEW STUDENTS INTERESTED IN INTERNATIONAL AND COMPARATIVE LAW

August 26, 2019

The Miller Institute held its annual reception to welcome incoming J.D., LL.M., J.S.D., and JSP students interested in international and comparative law. Students had the opportunity to meet faculty, hear from international law student groups, and learn about international law classes, programs, and events sponsored by the Miller Institute, Berkeley Law, and the American Society of International Law.

Carolyn Patty Blum with
Eric Stover, Human Rights Center Director

BOOK RECEPTION FOR “SOMEWHERE: THE STORY OF IRV, LOIS, AND A WORLD AT WAR”

September 5, 2019

Co-sponsored with the Human Rights Center and the International Human Rights Law Clinic

“Somewhere: The Story of Irv, Lois, and a World at War” is the new book by Berkeley Law Clinical Professor Emerita Carolyn Patty Blum, the founding director of the International Human Rights Law Clinic. The book draws from over 1,300 letters between Professor Blum’s parents, Lois and Irv Blum, while her father was deployed overseas in World War II. Each of the six chapters, replete with timelines, historical introductions, and family photos, tells their story—on the home front and the war front—as Irv’s supply line unit follows the trail of the fight in Europe.

SOCIAL MEDIA + GLOBAL JUSTICE: COULD THAT TWEET BE EVIDENCE?

September 10, 2019

Co-sponsored with the Human Rights Center

Speakers:

Sam Dubberley, Amnesty International
Alexa Koenig and Lindsay Freeman, Human Rights Center
Raquel Vazquez-Llorente, eyeWitness to Atrocities

This event featured a provocative conversation about using photos, videos, and social media posts to document and investigate war crimes, and international protocol on open source investigations developed in part at Berkeley Law.

Joe Fiorante

DOMESTIC REMEDIES FOR HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS: THE CANADIAN PERSPECTIVE

September 13, 2019

Co-sponsored with the Berkeley Journal of International Law

Joe Fiorante is one of the leading litigators against Canadian mining companies for human rights violations. He discussed his recent settlement against Pan American Silver using Canadian law to secure rights for those injured while protesting against a mine in Guatemala. He also talked about his case representing Eritrean refugees against the mining company Nevsun Resources for forced labor, torture, and other violations. This case is one of the first to bring international law claims as a common law tort in Canada.

Professor Saira Mohamed

INTERNATIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS: A CAREER AND RESEARCH CONVERSATION

October 2, 2019

Co-sponsored with the Berkeley Journal of International Law

Berkeley Law Professor Saira Mohamed talked about her career in international law and her work with the U.S. government. She also discussed her research on the role of criminal law and armed forces in preventing and stopping widespread violence, as well as the logic behind responsibility and participation in mass atrocity crimes.

October 21, 2019

Co-sponsored with the Berkeley Law Muslim Student Association, the South Asian Law Student Association, and the Law Students for Justice in Palestine

Zainab Ramahi ('19), Huma Dar, and Suhail Rashid spoke about the injustices occurring in their native land. The panelists analyzed the role of state actors in the region, the history that created the turmoil, and the intersections between the plight of oppressed Kashmiris and those who are oppressed around the world.

HEALTH BEHIND BARS

October 23, 2019

Co-sponsored with the Human Rights Center and the School of Public Health

An examination of the challenges and successes related to health care in prisons featuring Dr. Michele DiTomas, Chief Physician at the California Correctional Medical Facility, Dr. Homer Venters, formerly of Rikers Island, and Professor Keramet Reiter (J.D. '09/Ph.D. '12) of UC Irvine. The panelists discussed Supermax prisons, solitary confinement, mental health, hospice and end-of-life care, and the role of prison doctors.

PROTECTING LAND RIGHTS IN THE FACE OF LARGE-SCALE DEVELOPMENT PROJECTS: CREATIVE STRATEGIES COMMUNITIES ARE USING TO PROTECT THEIR RIGHTS

October 29, 2019

Co-sponsored with the Berkeley Journal for International Law, Ecology Law Quarterly, the Field Placement Program, the Thelton E. Henderson Center for Social Justice, the Human Rights Center, and the International Human Rights Law Clinic

Panelists:

- Alfred Brownell, founder of Green Advocates International
- Sarah Singh, Communities Co-Director at Accountability Counsel
- Emily Jacobi, Executive Director and founder of Digital Democracy

Moderator:

- Katherine McDonnell, Director of Legal Advocacy at Corporate Accountability Lab

This event focused on how indigenous and other communities around the world are organizing against large-scale development projects that threaten their livelihood and basic human rights.

Anna Boucher

MEASURING THE IMPORTANCE OF LEGAL REPRESENTATIVES IN PROTECTING MIGRANT WORKER RIGHTS: A COMPARISON OF AUSTRALIA AND THE UNITED STATES

October 31, 2019

Co-sponsored with the Berkeley Center on Comparative Equality & Anti-Discrimination Law and the Thelton E. Henderson Center for Social Justice

Anna Boucher, Associate Professor in the Department of Government at the University of Sydney, presented findings from the new and innovative Migrant Worker Rights Database that traces the nature and extent of migrant worker rights abuses in Australia and the United States from 1996-2016.

HUMAN RIGHTS FELLOWSHIP CONFERENCE

November 1, 2019

Co-sponsored with the Human Rights Center

This conference featured TED-style talks from the 2019 Human Rights Center Fellows on human rights in Latin America, Africa, the Middle East, and California. Dr. Elizabeth Barnert of UCLA gave the keynote speech on the process of family reunification of the “disappeared” children of El Salvador.

(L-R) Eric Stover, Waad al-Kateab,
and Edward Watts

“FOR SAMA” SCREENING AND PANEL DISCUSSION

November 4, 2019

Co-sponsored with the Human Rights Center

“For Sama” — a film produced for PBS' Frontline — documents Waad al-Kateab's life through the uprising in Aleppo, Syria, as she falls in love, gets married, and gives birth. A discussion with al-Kateab and Edward Watts, the filmmakers, and Eric Stover, Director of the Human Rights Center, followed the screening.

AALJ ANNUAL NEIL GOTANDA LECTURE ASIAN MIGRANT WORKERS AND THE 13TH AMENDMENT: THE HISTORICAL ROOTS OF UNFREE LABOR IN THE UNITED STATES

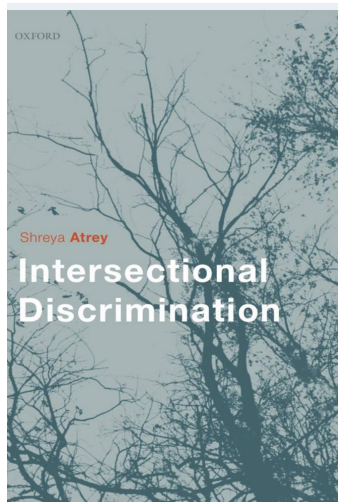

November 6, 2019

Co-sponsored with the Asian American Law Journal,
the International Human Rights Law Clinic, and Mayer Brown

Loyola Law School Professor Kathleen Kim gave the 13th Annual Neil Gotanda Lecture, where she discussed how the 13th Amendment and immigration laws fall short in protecting victims of race-based labor subordination, tracing history from the chattel slavery of Blacks to the modern-day exploitation of Asian migrant workers. The annual lecture is named in honor of Neil Gotanda ('72), who is widely considered to be the founder of Asian American jurisprudence.

Kathleen Kim

Professor Shreya Atrey

BOOK TALK ON “INTERSECTIONAL DISCRIMINATION”

November 6, 2019

Co-sponsored with the Berkeley Center on Comparative Equality & Anti-Discrimination Law and the Thelton E. Henderson Center for Social Justice

Professor Shreya Atrey of the University of Oxford Faculty of Law spoke about her new book, which examines the concept of intersectional discrimination and why it has been difficult for jurisdictions around the world to redress it in discrimination law.

Carmen Cheung

LITIGATING ATROCITY: US COURTS AND INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS

November 6, 2019

Co-sponsored with the Berkeley Journal of International Law

Carmen Cheung, Executive Director of the Center for Justice & Accountability, talked about the challenges and strategies involved in investigating and litigating cases involving mass atrocities in a U.S. court, and the legal mechanisms unique to the U.S. that make it possible for victims and survivors of serious human rights abuses to bring civil claims against perpetrators of genocide, war crimes, torture, and extrajudicial killings.

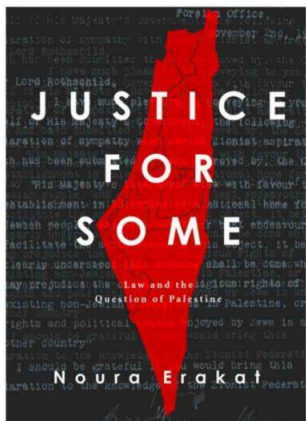

Professor Laurel E. Fletcher

LET'S TALK ABOUT THE BOTEROS: LAW, MEMORY, AND THE TORTURE MEMOS AT BERKELEY LAW

November 12, 2019

Co-sponsored with the Berkeley Journal of International Law

Berkeley Law Professor Laurel E. Fletcher presented her article, “Let's Talk about the Boteros: Law, Memory, and the Torture Memos,” which discusses the “Torture Memos,” the Abu Ghraib scandal, John Yoo, the Office of Legal Council, and what Berkeley Law should do to memorialize torture.

STEFAN A. RIESENFELD AWARD AND SYMPOSIUM

Since 2001, one of the great traditions at Berkeley Law is the annual Riesenfeld Symposium, which allows students, alumni, faculty, and staff to come together to recognize and celebrate achievement in international law. The symposium is organized by the Berkeley Journal of International Law (BJIL) with major support from the Miller Institute.

Each year, BJIL presents the Stefan A. Riesenfeld Memorial Award to a distinguished scholar or practitioner who has made outstanding contributions to the field of international law. The purpose of the award is to honor the memory of Professor Stefan A. Riesenfeld ('37), who devoted much of his life and career to the study and practice of international law, and to recognize a recipient who has demonstrated a commitment to the values and ideas that Professor Riesenfeld espoused and advocated.

2020 STEFAN A. RIESENFELD AWARD

The 2020 Riesenfeld Award was given to Guy Goodwin-Gill, Professor of Law at the University of New South Wales and Deputy director of UNSW's Kaldor Centre for International Refugee Law. Widely recognized as the preeminent legal scholar in the field, he is an Emeritus Fellow at All Souls College and Emeritus Professor of International Refugee Law at Oxford University and practiced as a barrister at Blackstone Chambers in London. His distinguished career has encompassed various roles with the Office of United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, advocacy before the courts in a number of prominent cases, and academic posts in Canada and throughout Europe. Since joining the Kaldor Centre in 2017, he has served as Acting Director, published widely and regularly comments in the media.
