By the way, we discovered that the MCC does not filter out at emails from lawyers before sending. Unlike the phone system, there isn't a separate email that they use when communicating with their lawyer. So, the AUSA receiving the emails should get someone else to review first to pull out any emails from lawyers. We had [REDACTED] do it for us. She just searched for the lawyer's names and pulled them out that way. She then gave us a "clean" copy of the emails.
