Re: Knight First Amendment Institute v. U.S. Dep't of Homeland Security et al.,
No. 17 Civ. 7572 (ALC)

Dear Judge Carter:

I write respectfully on behalf of Defendant United States Immigration and Customs Enforcement (“ICE”) to request that the Court set a schedule for rolling productions in response to Plaintiff’s Freedom of Information Act (“FOIA”) request requiring ICE to process 700 pages per month. District courts have adopted similar schedules, and it reflects a fair and reasonable interpretation of FOIA’s requirements. The schedule Plaintiff proposed—to process 1,000 pages per month—is not practicable. To the contrary, it would add another 300 pages per month during a period marked by the constraints of COVID and a 240% surge in ICE FOIA requests.

A. Procedural History

As the parties have previously explained, and pursuant to the Court’s September 13, 2020 Opinion and Order clarifying the Court’s September 13 and 23, 2019 Orders and denying the Defendants’ motion for partial reconsideration, ECF No. 158, ICE conducted new searches pursuant to agreed-upon search terms. See ECF No. 171 ¶ 8.¹ On December 9, 2020, ICE completed those searches and informed the Knight Institute that, after de-duplicating, the searches returned at least 263,857 potentially responsive documents (not pages). ECF No. 171 ¶ 9. Since then, ICE has worked diligently with Plaintiff to continually refine the search parameters in order to narrow the universe of potentially responsive documents—providing, among other things, breakdowns of potentially responsive documents by custodian, year, and search string.

As of April 2021, the parties agreed to narrow the potentially responsive documents by custodian and year; and ICE agreed to review and process 650 pages, produce to the Plaintiff any responsive, non-exempt material, and propose criteria based on that review to narrow the universe of potentially responsive documents. See ECF No. 176 ¶ 9. Accordingly, on June 7, 2021, ICE reported it had reviewed 661 pages of potentially responsive records, determined that 399 pages were duplicative or non-responsive, referred another 204 pages other agencies for further review, and produced 58 pages to the Knight Institute, withholding information in part or in full pursuant to FOIA Exemptions 5, 6, and 7(C). ECF No. 178 ¶ 7. On June 21, 2021, based on the agency's review of that subset of documents, ICE proposed revised search terms to Plaintiff, and on July 12, 2021, the parties agreed to a revised set of search terms ("July Search Terms"). ECF No. 182. On August 12, 2021, ICE completed conducting a search pursuant to the July Search Terms, and informed Plaintiff that the search had returned approximately 3,000 documents (not pages) of potentially responsive documents. ECF No. 186 & 188. ICE's standard processing rate is approximately 500 pages per month; Plaintiff requested that ICE process 1,000 pages per month; and ICE responded that it would increase its rate to 700 pages per month.

B. The ICE FOIA Office Has Faced An Exponential Increase in FOIA Requests and a Substantial Surge in FOIA Litigation

Beginning in fiscal year ("FY") 2018, the ICE FOIA Office experienced a substantial and dramatic increase in the number of FOIA requests received by ICE compared to previous years. Declaration of Fernando Pineiro, dated September 1, 2021 ("Pineiro Decl.") at ¶ 5. As ICE explains, the ICE FOIA Office received 44,748 FOIA requests in FY 2015; 63,385 FOIA requests in FY 2016; slightly fewer (47,893) in FY 2017; and then experienced an exponential increase—"a record high" of 70,267 FOIA requests in FY 2018, 123,370 FOIA requests in FY 2019, and 114,475 FOIA requests in FY 2020. See id. Accordingly, "between FY 2017 and FY 2020, the ICE FOIA Office experienced approximately a 240% increase in FOIA requests." Id. at ¶ 6.

At the same time, ICE has also experienced an increase in the complexity of FOIA requests, both in terms of volume and substance, doubling the workload of the ICE FOIA Office as compared to the same date in 2017. See id. at ¶¶ 7-8. Moreover, ICE is currently processing 197 active FOIA litigations, including 67 cases with court-ordered deadlines with rolling productions. See id. at ¶ 12. Those 67 cases result in a monthly litigation review and processing page count of between 28,000-35,000 pages, with a total of 11,000-18,000 pages being released every month. See id. Furthermore, additional cases and deadlines are added each month which increase the resulting processing and production deadlines. See id. With the recent monthly additions, several full-time paralegals (one of whom is currently on extended leave) are currently required to process nearly 40,000 pages per month. See id. And those 40,000 pages per month do not take into account the more than 60 additional FOIA lawsuits that require a single production as opposed to a rolling production, and thus also demand time and resources. See id.

This substantial increase in workload, due to both the substantial increase in both the volume and complexity of FOIA requests, has unfortunately coincided with a staffing shortage due to ICE's restricted ability to fill open positions during the COVID pandemic. Pineiro at ¶ 10.

C. Plaintiffs' Proposed Schedule Is Not Practicable

Although ICE granted Plaintiff's request for expedited processing, Dkt. No. 47 ¶ 48, Plaintiff's request that ICE process 1000 pages per month is not practicable in light of the current workload of the ICE FOIA Office.

FOIA provides that agencies will "process" expedited requests "as soon as practicable." 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E)(iii). When considering whether a proposed schedule is "practicable," courts examine whether an agency has presented "credible evidence" regarding such considerations as the number of "expedited FOIA requests the agency is already processing," the "volume of classified material at issue," "the need for agency staff to review the material," and the "competing . . . obligations to which the same agency staffers who are responsible for gathering and reviewing documents responsive to the FOIA Request must attend." EPIC v. Dep't of Justice, 15 F. Supp. 3d 32, 42 (D.D.C. 2014) (internal quotation marks omitted); cf. Brennan Ctr. for Justice v. U.S. Dep't of Justice, No. 17 Civ. 6335 (KBF), 2018 WL 637424, at *3 (S.D.N.Y. Jan. 31, 2018) (denying request for preliminary injunction in part due to "the administrative challenges inherent in processing a large number of FOIA requests and the time constraints that competing requests and/or court orders can present").

ICE has presented credible evidence that attempting to comply with Plaintiffs' proposed schedule would interfere with the ability of the agencies' FOIA staff to meet their competing obligations. As an initial matter, ICE has continually worked diligently and collaboratively with Plaintiff in this case to try to narrow the search parameters, devoting resources to this matter in order to provide Plaintiff with the most responsive documents possible. ICE has also offered to increase its typical processing rate from 500 pages per month to 700 pages per month, despite the crushing caseload the ICE FOIA Office is currently handling. Plaintiff's request to increase the production rate even further to 1,000 pages per month would require ICE to increase its entire FOIA monthly production during a time when FOIA requests have grown by 240%, and would necessarily hinder ICE's ability to respond to meet its many other court ordered processing obligations, which currently require ICE to process approximately 28,000-35,000 pages per month. Pineiro at ¶ 6, 12, 17. Accordingly, Plaintiff's proposal to impose an additional 300 pages per month obligation on ICE is simply not practicable.

D. The Court Should Grant ICE Additional Time to Process

The Court should "allow the agenc[ies] additional time to complete [their] review of the records," because ICE faces "exceptional circumstances." 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(C)(i); see also Citizens for Responsibility & Ethics in Wash. ("CREW") v. FEC, 711 F.3d 180, 189 (D.C. Cir. 2013). The "exceptional circumstances provisions allow agencies to deal with broad, time-consuming requests (or justifiable agency backlogs)." Id. Courts have found exceptional circumstances where agencies show (1) a "dramatic one-year increase" in the number of FOIA requests, (2) that they are "presently engaged in extensive litigation," (3) that the "ongoing litigation has . . . strained . . . FOIA-related resources," and (4) that the agency "is taking steps to reduce the present backlog." Daily Caller v. State, 152 F. Supp. 3d 1, 12 (D.D.C. 2015). An agency's need for "more time to respond to a particularly burdensome request" is precisely the type of situation that the exceptional circumstances provisions are meant to address. CREW, 711 F.3d at 189.

Here, ICE has shown each factor that led to a finding of “exceptional circumstances” in Daily Caller. First, since the start of this litigation, ICE has experienced a 240% increase in FOIA requests, and over the past year while the parties were negotiating search terms, ICE also received 114,475 FOIA requests – on pace with 2019 and approximately 44,000 more than 2018. Pineiro Decl. at ¶¶ 4-6. Second, ICE engaged in extensive litigation, as ICE is currently a defendant in approximately 197 litigations. Pineiro Decl. at ¶ 4. Third, such increased litigation has strained the agencies’ resources, and Plaintiff’s proposed schedule would compound that strain. Pineiro Decl. at ¶¶ 16-17. These facts demonstrate exceptional circumstances.

Moreover, when assessing “exceptional circumstances,” the Court must consider the Plaintiff’s “[r]efusal . . . to reasonably modify the scope of [their] request or arrange an alternative time frame for processing . . . after being given an opportunity to do so by the agency.” 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(C)(iii). As noted above, after working diligently with Plaintiff to continually refine the search terms, ICE also offered to attempt to increase its production rate from its standard rate of 500 pages per month to a higher rate of 700 pages per month, and Plaintiff rejected that offer.

E. Defendants’ Request Is Consistent with Courts’ Practices

ICE’s proposal that it process 700 pages per month is consistent with courts’ prevailing practice in FOIA cases. Courts have adopted similar schedules in multiple recent cases. See, e.g., NYCLU v. Admin. for Children & Families, No. 20 Civ. 183 (MKV), Dkt. No. 30 (S.D.N.Y. May 5, 2020) (400 pages per month); Color of Change v. United States Dep’t of Homeland Sec., 325 F. Supp. 3d 447, 451 (S.D.N.Y. 2018) (500 pages per month); Blakeney v. Fed. Bureau of Investigations, No. 17-cv-2288 (BAH), 2019 WL 450678, at *2 (D.D.C. Feb. 5, 2019) (500 pages per month); Middle E. Forum v. U.S. Dep’t of Homeland Sec., No. 17 Civ. 767 (RCL) (GMH), 2018 WL 1178022, at *3-4 (D.D.C. Mar. 5, 2018) (“On this record, 500 pages per month is an appropriate rate of production.”); id. at *3 n.3 (noting that, “[i]n a number of recent cases in this District, a production rate of 500 pages per month has been approved,” and collecting cases); Republican Nat’l Comm. v. U.S. Dep’t of State, No. 16 Civ. 486 (JEB), 2016 WL 9244625, at *1 (D.D.C. Sept. 16, 2016) (500 pages per month); Energy & Env’t Legal Inst. v. U.S. Dep’t of State, No. 17 Civ. 340 (D.D.C.), Minute Order of August 22, 2017 (300 pages per month); Judicial Watch, Inc. v. U.S. Dep’t of State, No. 17 Civ. 205 (D.D.C.), Minute Order of June 30, 2017 (300 pages every four weeks); Am. Ctr. for Law & Justice v. U.S. Dep’t of State, No. 16 Civ. 2516 (D.D.C.), Minute Order of June 27, 2017 (process 400 pages per month); Citizens United v. U.S. Dep’t of State, No. 16 Civ. 67 (D.D.C.), Dkt. No. 17 at 3 (declining “to adopt Plaintiff’s proposed production order of 2000 pages per month” and instead holding State “to its 300-page commitment”); Freedom Watch v. Bureau of Land Mgmt., No. 16 Civ. 2320 (D.D.C.), Minute Order of June 13, 2017 (500 pages every 30 days); Citizens United v. U.S. Dep’t of State, No. 15 Civ. 1720 (D.D.C.), Dkt. No. 11 ¶ 10 (500 pages every four weeks); Judicial Watch, Inc. v. U.S. Dep’t of State, No. 15 Civ. 687 (D.D.C.), Minute Order of April 4, 2017 (500 pages per month); Leopold v. U.S. Dep’t of State, No. 14 Civ. 1770 (D.D.C.), Dkt. No. 33 at 1 (review 400 pages per month); Davis v. United States Dep’t of Homeland Sec., No. 11-cv-203 (ARR) (VMS), 2013 WL 3288418, at *1 (E.D.N.Y. June 27, 2013) (500 pages per month).

In previous submissions regarding processing rates in this matter, Plaintiff noted that courts have “expressed concern” over certain processing rates, ECF No. 48 at 11 (citing Brennan Ctr. for Justice v. U.S. Dep’t of State, No. 17 Civ. 7520 (PGG), 2018 WL 369783, at *3 (S.D.N.Y. Jan. 10, 2018), and ACLU v. Dep’t of Defense, 339 F. Supp. 2d 501 (S.D.N.Y. 2004)), but those cases are inapt. In Brennan Center, for example, there were only six documents in dispute, id. at *7, resulting in the court ordering the agency to produce those documents within 30 days. Similarly, in ACLU, despite 11 months having passed since plaintiff filed its FOIA request, “no documents ha[d] been produced by defendant; [and] no documents ha[d] been identified.” 339 F. Supp. 2d at 502-03. Here, by contrast, ICE has located potentially responsive documents; those documents total more than 3,000 documents (and unknown number of pages); ICE has proposed a processing rate that is higher than its standard processing rate; and ICE has already produced documents throughout the history of this matter.

Plaintiff also previously pointed to Seavey v. Dep’t of Justice, 266 F. Supp. 3d 241, 248 (D.D.C. 2017), where the court ordered the FBI to process 2,850 pages per month (see ECF No. 48). However, in that case, the FBI identified more than 100,000 pages of responsive documents and offered to process 500 pages per month, which would have resulted in completing production in 201 months—approximately 13 years longer than the FBI’s internal policy of completing FOIA productions within 3 years. Accordingly, the court noted, “Given that there are roughly 102,000 pages awaiting processing, the FBI could meet the three year goal by processing 2,850 pages per month.” Id. Here, by contrast, while it is not yet clear how many pages the approximately 3000 documents of potentially responsive documents total, a production rate of 700 per month is unlikely to result in a 13-year timeframe. Moreover, the difference between a production rate of 700 pages per month versus 1000 pages per month is also unlikely to dramatically change that timeframe.

ICE is mindful that in a recent case, National Immigration Project v. U.S. Dep’t of Homeland Security, 18 Civ. 659 (RA) (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 6, 2018), the court ordered State to process 1,500 pages per month. See Dkt. No. 55. However, in that case, the plaintiff had requested that State process 3000 pages per week, see id., and thus the court reached a compromise closer to the agency’s proposal than the plaintiff’s request. Similarly, in Open Society Justice Initiative v. CIA, 399 F. Supp. 3d 161, 162 (2019), while the court ordered the agencies to process 5,000 pages per month, the court did so because of “the urgency of the request”—information “regarding a subject of considerable public importance: the disappearance of Jamal Khashoggi, a U.S. resident, Saudi national, and Washington Post columnist who was not seen alive again after entering the Saudi consulate in Istanbul on October 2, 2018.” See also id. at 163 (“recogni[zing] the public importance and time-sensitivity of the Khashoggi FOIA request”). Here, by contrast, the documents Plaintiff seeks are not time-sensitive: they concern immigration policies and procedures adopted by the prior administration, see ECF No. 188 ¶ 4(a) (describing June Search Terms) & ECF No. 1 ¶¶ 2-7 (citing then-President Trump’s statements regarding immigration and related Executive Orders, and stating “The public has an urgent need to know about these and other new vetting policies” and “[t]oward that end, the Knight Instituted submitted identical FOIA requests”), and now reversed by the current administration, see, e.g., <https://www.nytimes.com/2021/01/20/us/politics/biden-executive-action.html>. Finally, Open Society v. DOD, 20 Civ. 5096, ECF No. 69 (S.D.N.Y. Dec. 15, 2020), is inapt, as the court, in December 2020, ordered the agencies to steadily increase processing rates because, “for various reasons (including the fact that at least one vaccine has now been approved for emergency use authorization), the burdens imposed by the pandemic are likely to decline over time.” As noted by the Pineiro Declaration, those burdens, unfortunately, remain.

For the reasons set forth above, ICE respectfully requests that the Court enter a schedule that requires ICE to process 700 pages per month. We thank the Court for considering this request.

Respectfully,

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HOMELAND
SECURITY, et al.

Defendants.

Civil Action No. 1:17-CV-07572-ALC

DECLARATION OF ICE ACTING FOIA OFFICER FERNANDO PINEIRO REGARDING ICE FOIA OFFICE WORKLOAD AND RESOURCES

I. INTRODUCTION

I, Fernando Pineiro, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746, hereby declare as follows:

1. I am the Acting FOIA Officer of the U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (“ICE”) Freedom of Information Act (“FOIA”) Office (the “ICE FOIA Office” or “ICE FOIA”). I have held this position since July 10, 2019 and am the ICE official immediately responsible for supervising ICE responses to requests for records under the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. § 552, the Privacy Act, 5 U.S.C. § 552a (the “Privacy Act”), and other applicable records access statutes and regulations. Prior to this position, I was the Deputy FOIA Officer of the ICE FOIA Office from December 29, 2013, to July 9, 2019, and prior to that I was the FOIA Officer for three years at the Office for Civil Rights and Civil Liberties (“CRCL”) at the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (“DHS”).

2. My official duties and responsibilities include the general management, oversight, and supervision of the ICE FOIA Office, which is responsible for receiving, processing, and responding to all FOIA, 5 U.S.C. § 552, and Privacy Act, 5 U.S.C. § 552a, requests received at ICE. In that capacity, I manage and supervise a staff of ICE FOIA Paralegal Specialists, who report to me regarding the processing of FOIA and Privacy Act requests received by ICE, as well as the status, processing, and productions of ICE's federal FOIA litigations. In connection with my official duties, I am familiar with ICE's procedures for responding to requests for information pursuant to provisions of FOIA and the Privacy Act. In addition to responding to requests for information, I am also familiar with ICE FOIA's workload as well as the supporting metrics regarding the office's capabilities around processing and productions.

3. I make this declaration in my official capacity based on my personal knowledge, my review of records kept by ICE in the ordinary course of business, and information provided to me by other ICE employees in the course of my official duties.

II. CURRENT STATISTICS REGARDING FOIA REQUESTS SUBMITTED TO ICE

4. As of August 23, 2021, the ICE FOIA Office was processing approximately 3,775 open FOIA requests. As of August 23, 2021, there was a backlog of 3,225 cases and there are 197 open litigations.¹ As of the date of this declaration, there were 197 cases in litigation.

5. Beginning in fiscal year ("FY") 2018, the ICE FOIA Office experienced a substantial and dramatic increase in the number of FOIA requests received by ICE compared to previous years. In FY 2015, the ICE FOIA Office received 44,748 FOIA requests; 63,385 FOIA requests were received in FY 2016. The number of requests received decreased in FY 2017 to 47,893 but was then followed by a record high of 70,267 FOIA requests in FY 2018. In FY 2019, that number increased even further to a total of 123,370 requests received. In FY 2020, the ICE FOIA Office received 114,475 requests.

6. In short, between FY 2017 and FY 2020, the ICE FOIA Office experienced approximately a 240% increase in FOIA requests.

III. ICE FOIA OFFICE'S STAFF LEVELS AND WORKLOAD

7. In addition to the increasing volume of FOIA requests, ICE has also experienced an increase in the complexity of FOIA requests, both in terms of volume and substance. For example, it is now not uncommon for ICE to receive FOIA requests with 50 to 60 subparts comprising several pages, requiring searches of numerous program offices, and encompassing thousands of pages or records to review and process. These FOIA requests take considerably longer to process due to the extensive searches that are usually required, as well as the intricacies of the documents and/or data produced. In FY 2019, one FOIA requester alone – a data clearing house – filed more than 370 FOIA requests seeking extensive data extracts. In FY 2020, the same requester filed more than 480 similar FOIA requests.

8. As a result, ICE FOIA Office's overall workload in comparison with the same date for FY 2017 has more than doubled. In response to the increasingly heavy workload, the ICE FOIA Office has adopted the court-sanctioned practice of generally handling backlogged requests on a "first-in, first-out basis," which ensures fairness to all FOIA requestors by not prioritizing one request over another. For FY2020, the ICE FOIA Office closed 79,081 cases and 17,060 referrals from USCIS.

9. The ICE FOIA Office currently has FOIA specialists dedicated to processing FOIA requests solely at the administrative level. The processors are responsible for responding to the original FOIA requests and, if necessary, reprocessing remands on appeal. In FY 2019, these FOIA processors completed and closed out 65,213 FOIA requests.

10. Additionally, the COVID Pandemic has negatively impacted the ICE FOIA Office. The ICE FOIA Office has many unfilled positions due to the difficulty in the hiring process during COVID-19 operations, further impacting the ICE FOIA Office's resource capabilities.

IV. WORKLOAD OF THE ICE FOIA LITIGATION PROCESSING UNIT

11. A consequence of the increasing complexity and volume of ICE FOIA's workload (see paragraphs 5-9) is that more of those FOIA requests become subject to litigation in U.S. District Court.

12. The ICE FOIA Litigation Processing Unit is currently processing 197 active FOIA litigations as of the date of this declaration. There are currently 67 court-ordered FOIA litigation cases that have rolling productions, which yield a monthly litigation review and processing page count of between 28,000-35,000 pages, with a total of 11,000-18,000 pages being released every month. ICE's normal processing rate is 500 pages per month, per case. Additionally, there are cases that are added each month that increase the case list and resulting productions. With the monthly additions, several full-time paralegals (one of whom is currently on extended leave) will be required to process nearly 40,000 pages per month. These page-count numbers do not take into account the more than 60 additional FOIA lawsuits that require a single production as opposed to a rolling production.

13. The ICE FOIA Litigation Processing Unit also drafts, assigns, and tracks any and all searches for responsive documents in response to FOIA litigations. These search taskings can span dozens of ICE program and field offices and require the Unit to keep track of hundreds of thousands of responsive documents, as well as all of the offices' search documentation.

14. The ICE FOIA Litigation Processing Unit also has other duties, in addition to processing documents pursuant to litigation. For example, they also prepare various reports, process Congressional inquiries, redact Prison Rape Elimination Act (“PREA”) and Office of Detention Oversight (“ODO”) reports, send out FOIA (b)(4) submitter notices on relevant cases, and handle consults and referrals from other agencies as they come in. The Unit also supports attorneys in the ICE Office of the Principal Legal Advisor on federal FOIA litigations, assisting in the creation of Vaughn indexes, declarations, and other necessary court filings.

15. The members of the ICE FOIA Litigation Processing Unit also manage a host of other administrative duties, including (but not limited to) monitoring the ICE FOIA inbox (which receives 12,000-18,000 emails annually), processing all classified consults and referrals, scheduling productions, preparing clearance emails, and preparing other correspondence to requesters.

16. In total, each member of the ICE FOIA Litigation Processing Unit can process on average 100-300 pages per day, depending on the complexity of the documents, and still keep up with their overall job duties.

17. In order to meet its obligations for all cases in litigation, and to ensure that all of the FOIA matters progress so that other requesters are not unfairly impacted, the ICE FOIA Office typically processes no more than 500 pages per month for each litigation case. Any significant increase in one matter would hinder ICE FOIA’s ability to process records for productions in other matters.

V. ICE FOIA'S PROPOSED PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

18. In negotiating with Plaintiff, the ICE FOIA Office initially offered to process at least 500 pages per month on a rolling basis through completion of the latest production from our supplemental searches, which is approximately 47,557 pages. Plaintiffs rejected that proposal. In an effort to try and reach an agreement on this case, the ICE FOIA Office offered to reallocate resources and shift workload to allow processing for 700 pages per month on a rolling basis, starting no later than September 30, 2021, and subsequent productions following on the 30th of each month thereafter. Unfortunately, Plaintiffs rejected that offer as well, and the parties have not reached an agreement with respect to a production schedule.
