

KADISH CENTER WORKSHOP IN LAW, PHILOSOPHY, AND POLITICAL THEORY

Date	Speaker	Paper Title
Aug. 20th	Introduction	For Enrolled Students Only
Aug. 27th	Lara Buchak, Philosophy, Princeton University	Philosophical Foundation for Worst-Case Arguments
Sep. 3rd	Thomas Piketty, Economics, EHESS & the Paris School of Economics	Elements for a Participatory Socialism for the 21st century
Sep. 10th	Samuel Scheffler, Philosophy, New York University	Moral Independence Revisited: A Note on the Development of Rawls's Thought from 1977-1980 and Beyond
Sep. 17th	Samuel Freeman, Philosophy and Law, University of Pennsylvania	Ideal Theory and Racial Justice: On Charles Mills' Tanner Lecture
Sep. 24th	Sarah Song, Law and Political Science, UC Berkeley	Immigrant Legalization: A Dilemma between Inclusion and the Rule of Law?
Oct. 1st	Tommie Shelby, Philosophy, Harvard University	Race, Rectification, and Justice as Fairness
Oct. 8th	Seana Shiffrin, Philosophy and Law, UCLA Law	Democratic Politics: Duty Delegation without Abdication
Oct. 15th	T. M. Scanlon, Philosophy, Harvard University	Testimony of An Incomplete Rawlsian
Oct. 22nd	Arthur Ripstein, Law and Philosophy, University of Toronto	Private Order and Public Justice: Kant and Rawls
Oct. 29th	Teresa Bejan, Political Theory, University of Oxford	Peers and Equals
Nov. 5th	Erin Kelly, Philosophy, Tufts University	Accountability in Criminal Justice: Lessons from Rawls
Nov. 12th	Josh Cohen, Philosophy, UC Berkeley	The Fragility of Democracy
Nov. 19th	Kenzie Bok, Social Studies, Harvard University	TBA